

White/Grey-Construction Related Occupation Card (CRO)

This particular card is designed to encompass and cover any and all construction related occupational areas that aren't covered by all the other more conventional or popular card types or categories. It's designed for operatives with occupations that operate alongside conventional construction operations, such as cleaners or those responsible for clearing material from sites. The CRO card is valid for 5 years and all applicants must successfully sit and pass the construction skills health and safety test before submitting any applications. The card also states the particular occupation and expertise held or achieved by its owner.
